Mr. Fazil Mir
Principal

Nestled amidst the serene landscape of Dragmullah in Kupwara, My New School stands as a vibrant centre of learning, creativity, and character-building. Established in 2013 by Mr Sajad Ahmad wani, our visionary chairman with the vision to nurture well-rounded individuals, the school offers a dynamic blend of academic excellence, co-curricular enrichment, and value-based education for both boys and girls.

At My New School, education goes far beyond textbooks and classrooms. We believe that true learning happens when curiosity is encouraged, ideas are explored, and individuality is celebrated. Every child is seen as unique, with distinct talents, dreams, and potential and it is our constant effort to provide the right environment where these qualities can bloom naturally.

Our spacious and well-equipped classrooms create an atmosphere conducive to focused learning and interactive teaching. With modern teaching aids, child-friendly spaces, and a teacher–student ratio that allows for individual attention, we ensure that every learner feels valued and supported. Our team of highly qualified, dedicated, and compassionate teachers forms the backbone of the institution. They are not just instructors but mentors who inspire students to think critically, act responsibly, and grow confidently.

Beyond academics, the school places strong emphasis on extra-curricular and co-curricular activities, recognizing their essential role in shaping personality and developing life skills. Students are encouraged to participate in debates, quizzes, cultural events, exhibitions, and leadership programs that broaden their perspectives and build confidence.

Sports are an integral part of life at My New School. We provide ample opportunities for both indoor and outdoor games, including football, cricket, badminton, table tennis, and athletics. Through sports, our students learn teamwork, discipline, and perseverance qualities that help them succeed both on and off the field.

One of the distinctive features of our institution is its focus on theatre and performing arts. We see art as a powerful medium for self-expression, communication, and empathy. Through theatre, music, and visual arts, students learn to voice their ideas, explore emotions, and understand the world around them in creative ways. Regular art festivals, drama workshops, and talent shows make the school campus a lively and expressive space.

To ensure accessibility and convenience, the school offers safe and reliable bus facilities connecting Dragmullah with main Kupwara town and all nearby villages .. Each bus is monitored for safety and punctuality, helping students commute comfortably and on time.

Our school also takes pride in creating a clean, green, and inclusive campus that reflects respect for nature and community values. We encourage eco-friendly practices, tree plantation drives, and awareness campaigns to instill environmental consciousness among students.

The ethos of My New School is built on three pillars , Excellence, Empathy, and Empowerment. The school has an internal quality assurance cell (IQAC) which strives for academic excellence through innovative teaching; we foster empathy by cultivating kindness and respect; and we empower our students to become confident individuals who contribute positively to society.

In essence, My New School, Dragmullah Kupwara, is not just an educational institution — it is a nurturing ground for young minds and hearts. It is where knowledge meets creativity, discipline meets joy, and dreams begin to take shape. We invite parents and guardians to admit their wards in our school and join hands with us in this shared mission of shaping tomorrow's thoughtful citizens and compassionate leaders.
